

Collaboration

Within our department we use teams to communicate about our classes, plan teacher workshops and share lesson plans. In grade one and two English we don't use teams very much with the students, however, as a school the students are currently learning how to use teams and I hope to incorporate it in the future for English homework and assignments.

English Education

With grade 2 I use power point for root time. Root time is an upbeat rhythmic introduction and review of English words and phrases. I change my phrases on a regular basis to reflect what is being taught in class as well as to teach the students useful daily phrases that they don't necessarily learn in class.

The students now have the confidence to ask me if they can go to the nurse's office or the bathroom in English, up until recently the students usually asked me in Japanese or went to the Japanese teacher of English to ask them.

Sure.
Not right now.
